Local charities to benefit from your donations:

The CGA has chosen two charities in the Eastern Cape to benefit from grower donations. If you have not yet registered visit <http://www.cgasummit.co.za/Register/Register>. Alternatively, if you have already registered and still wish to contribute, contact Gloria at gloria@cga.co.za.

Below is some information which may help you to decide which organisation you would like to support, or you can give to both.

Rita's Care Home was established by Rita Terblanche in Despatch in 2010, with the aim of providing quality care for the elderly. The home began with two elderly residents and today they have 15 residents – all of whom are frail and require 24-hour care. Rita manages the medical aspect of the home, while her daughter, Seugnet, manages the home and all its administration.

Their aim is to provide a homely atmosphere for their beloved residents, as well as a positive work environment for their staff.

Langbos is an informal settlement in Addo, where 500 people live in dire poverty, without access to basic amenities, like water and electricity. The project started with the building of the Langbos Crèche and Care Centre, a safe

The home is completely privately owned, and with the current inflation rate, monthly expenses and salaries for competent carers, the home is not profitable.

Although monthly costs are covered, there is no buffer for emergencies.

They urgently require a new stove, new wiring and a water tank, and they would like to start growing their own vegetables in order to become more self-sustainable.

The home currently provides employment for nine carers (who work shifts), three domestic workers and a gardener. Unfortunately the staff do not have a designated area where they can enjoy their lunch and tea, so they would like to extend the current facilities to include a staff room and bathroom.

haven in the heart of Langbos.

During the past 12 years the project has grown to include a crèche, community centre, playground, permaculture garden, solar panels and a wind turbine to power the centre on renewable energy. They are also a registered conservation based eco-school. In 2014 Langbos won the silver award at the Addo Elephant National Park.

They have created eight jobs, and currently care for 40+ children who attend the crèche daily.

They also host a soup kitchen twice a week for vulnerable children and community members, and are currently working on a project to build a home for orphaned children.

Langbos Crèche and Care Centre is a registered NPO and falls under the auspices of the Mayibuye Ndlovu Development.
