RUSSIAN MARKET FOR SOUTH AFRICAN CITRUS

Apart from the humanitarian shock of the Russian invasion of Ukraine, citrus exporters in southern Africa were extremely worried about marketing opportunities in a country that accounted for between 7 and 10% of exports. The early lemon market was almost non-existent, however as the year progressed volumes to Russia picked up. Year to date exports of lemons and oranges are on a par with the past two years, while mandarin exports are ahead. Grapefruit exports have lagged behind the previous two years. Overall citrus exports to Russia in 2022 exceed 2021.
