Orange Heart is the social responsibility initiative of the Citrus Growers' Association of Southern Africa. It provides a structure through which citrus growers and other industry stakeholders can contribute to uplifting and supporting the people of South Africa, especially people living in rural citrus-growing regions. Uplifting those less fortunate and promoting rural growth and development is very important to the CGA. Through Orange Heart, we encourage and enable the grower community to get involved and lend a hand.

One of the most important programmes run by Orange Heart is the Orange Heart Fruit Drive, where donations of fruit are requested from growers. This fruit is then sent to beneficiary organisations who distribute it among less fortunate communities.

Growers who have surplus fruit, or who would like to donate, are encouraged to do so through the Orange Heart Initiative.
