Keeping all RBX Group Stakeholders Informed

Note from the Managing Director

It has been awesome to link up with so many colleagues in the last few weeks as we got together to acknowledge the achievements of last season and get ready for the new one. This was especially so in Citrusdal, where just a few months ago we had production issues that saw us short of moths for the first time in 6 years. The production in Citrusdal for the new season looks fantastic, and it was a privilege to personally thank those who made this possible through their hard work and dedication. All the best to our whole team as we go into another exciting season of doing everything we can to support our growers.

Celebrating XSIT Staff

We had the opportunity to bring our teams together in both the Eastern and Western Cape to celebrate the close of another season.

The functions gave us a moment to pause, reflect, and recognise the dedication and hard work that carried us through the year, from the orchards to the production site, and every role in between.

The events were also a chance to acknowledge those who reached incredible milestones, with 10- and 15-year long service awards presented, as well as our value champions who continue to embody the spirit of our company in their work every day.

As we look ahead to the new SIT season that has started, we do so with fresh energy and a shared sense of purpose.

The unity and commitment shown at these gatherings serve as a reminder that when we move forward together, there's no limit to what we can achieve.

Staying On Top of the Season

Following the National Sales Workshop in August, our CSU South and North teams came together for their regional sales workshops in September to align for the season ahead.

The sessions held in Paarl for the South team and Magoebaskloof for the North gave our CSU team the chance to step back from their day-to-day work and look at the bigger picture, sharing their strategies, exchanging ideas, discussing challenges, and aligning priorities for the months to come.

Each member of the team contributed valuable insights on how to approach the market, strengthen relationships with our agents and growers, and deliver on our growth goals. Beyond the strategic discussions, the workshops also created space for collaboration, open conversation, and building stronger connections across the team.

By the end of the workshops, the team left with renewed energy, a clearer vision, and a stronger sense of unity—a reminder of the value of coming together, learning from one another, and moving forward as one.
